New Chief in Panama Tries Taking Command

PANAMA (AP) — Hoarse from tear gas in a confrontation with the Panama National Guard, the president installed by the National Assembly said Tuesday night he would try to fire the guard's commander today.

President Max Delvalle, his cabinet and legislators were barred from meeting in the assembly building Tuesday by Brig. Gen. Bolivar Vallarino, commander of the 4,000-man guard, the country's only armed force. Rioting followed.

'Not 2 Presidents'

Vallarino told The Associated Press: "There are not two presidents in Panama. The constitutional president is Marco A. Robles unless the Supreme Court rules otherwise, in which case the National Guard will abide by that pronouncement." The court convenes Monday.

Robles was ousted by the assembly Sunday in a 30-0 impeachment conviction on charges that he violated the constitution by promoting a candidate to succeed him in the May 12 elections.

Delvalle seemed cheerful as he spoke with newsmen after a cabinet meeting in his suburban home. He would not say what was discussed at the meeting but asserted the dismissal of Vallarino and all four of his top subchiefs probably would be acted on today.

Downtown Panama appeared quiet Tuesday night after guardsmen dispersed crowds with tear gas and rifle shots, and several persons were treated for gunshot wounds. Delvalle

Mercury Zooms To Record Highs

Appleton was only one of four major Wisconsin cities to experience record-high temperatures Tuesday as spring took its first giant strides of the year.

Mild weather will continue, although springtime showers and thundershowers were due late this afternoon.

The official high temperature at Appleton Tuesday was 67 degrees, one degree higher than the previous record for March 26, set in 1945.

Green Bay enjoyed the highest temperature it experienced for the day. It was 69. The previous high was 68 in 1945.

Milwaukee and Superior recorded temperatures equal to that day ever recorded. At Milwaukee it was 75, tying a mark set in 1925, and at Superior it was 64, warmest there on this date since 1945.

Other highs were Beloit, Lone Rock and Racine 71, Green Bay and Eau Claire 69, Park Falls 67, and Wausau 66.

The lowest temperature reported in the state was 37 at Green Bay.

Other lows were Wausau, Park Falls and Burlington 40, Superior and Madison 41, Milwaukee Gen. Billy Mitchell Field 42, Lone Rock 45, Racine 46, Beloit 49, Eau Claire 50, and La Crosse 53.

Abrams' Visit To Washington Spurs Rumors

President Might Announce Choice Of War Commander

WASHINGTON (AP) — Relative secrecy surrounds Gen. Creighton W. Abrams' Washington visit, generally considered a prelude to an announcement he will succeed Gen. William C. Westmoreland in Vietnam.

The 53-year-old Abrams, Westmoreland's top deputy, arrived unannounced Monday night and his presence went largely unnoticed until a newsman spotted him in a Pentagon hallway Tuesday.

Although the Defense Department didn't say so immediately, Abrams had just returned from a White House lunch with President Johnson.

Report on Plans

Confirming his presence later, the Pentagon said the four-star Army general was in Washington to report on plans to strengthen and modernize the South Vietnamese army.

Abrams has been mentioned prominently as the officer who will fill Westmoreland's shoes by July 2 when the present Vietnam commander becomes Army chief of staff.

The White House shed little additional light later in confirming that Abrams saw the President along with unnamed "senior advisers" and would be in Washington a day or two.

Talks With Clifford

It was learned at the Pentagon that Abrams conferred with

Gen. Abrams new Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford, Chairman Earle G. Wheeler of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and others.

Some administration officials speculated that the President, who often has displayed a penchant for surprise—had secretly whisked Abrams to Washington for a surprise—had secretly whisked Abrams to Washington for a surprise announcement of the new command change.

As one administration spokesman put it: "If the President decides Abe's the guy and now's the time, he may bring him out tomorrow for a press conference announcement—and we won't know in advance."

It wasn't necessary for the President to bring the stocky, former Army vice-chief of staff home to size him up.

In assigning Abrams 10 months ago to go to Vietnam as Westmoreland's principal aide, Johnson gave him a notable sendoff before reporters at the White House.

The President has conferred with Abrams privately on several occasions.

'We'll Throw You In'

Mob Burned at Firemen

HIGH RIDGE, Mo. (AP) — The volunteer High Ridge fire department was forced by an angry crowd armed with guns and clubs to put out a fire Tuesday night, an assistant fire chief said.

Robert Ellison, assistant chief, said his men had no chance to determine whether the house exhibited the required $7 fire protection tag. He estimated 75 persons in the crowd.

"We'll throw you right into the flames if you don't put it out," Ellison said he was told. "They even grabbed me and grabbed the hose out of my hands," he said.

The burning home was five houses away from a residence the firemen allowed to burn March 18 because it was untaxed. They are not permitted to fight a fire at a home without a tag, unless human life is at stake, Ellison explained.

Police Watch

He said the state highway patrol and Jefferson County sheriff's officers were called when the mob gathered. High Ridge is a community of about 260 persons 35 miles southwest of St. Louis. The police stood by while the firemen fought the fire. There was no violence.

Earlier Tuesday, firemen put out a blaze in an unprotected home because a woman and child were in danger. The child was overcome by smoke, and the mother suffered cuts.

"What surprises me is that all 28 guys in the department haven't turned in their badges, because not one single dime is made by any of these guys," Ellison said.

Damage to the home in the Tuesday night fire was extensive, he said. There were no injuries.

Most Democrat Governors Solidly Behind President; Few Back RFK, McCarthy

NEW YORK (AP) — A survey of the nation's Democratic governors showed scant support today for either Sen. Robert F. Kennedy or Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

An Associated Press survey found that 14 of the 24 Democrats occupying state house chairs express support for President Johnson for re-election. Only one—Philip H. Hoff of Vermont—is unequivocally for Kennedy. One other—Harold E. Hughes of Iowa—may be leaning toward Kennedy or McCarthy.

Six of the governors appear uncommitted. Two others stand apart from the party.

Hoff stands alone among the Democratic governors in his break with President Johnson.

"I have concluded," Hoff said last Friday, "that the only way in which our potentially disastrous national course can be arrested is through a change in our national leadership."

Welcomes Candidacy

Hoff said he welcomed McCarthy's candidacy, but maintained that Kennedy "offers the most realistic possibility for the people of America if we are to achieve the national regeneration that is so desperately needed."

such states as Texas, his home state, and from Tennessee, West Virginia and Delaware.

"Just a few weeks ago, Kennedy was saying that he supported President Johnson, and now he says that he does not support him. The United States has never trusted an uncertain leader, and they aren't going to start now,"—John Connally of Texas.

'Solid Support'

"In the long run, these recent developments are going to be beneficial for the President. I am absolutely convinced that President Johnson will receive solid support from the Tennessee delegation at the convention and then will carry Tennessee in November,"—Buford Ellington, a longtime Johnson ally.

"We will conduct a vigorous campaign in the mountain state. Our efforts will culminate in victory for the Johnson-Humphrey ticket in November,"—Hulett C. Smith of West Virginia.

"Deeply committed to the President and his administration,"—Charles L. Terry Jr. of Delaware.

Hawaii's Gov. John A. Burns said he's "pretty sure that Hawaii will continue to support the President in light of Johnson's outstanding record and especially because Hawaii remembers

Governor Proposes 4 Measures

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — An aggressive attack on the state's growing traffic fatality rate was announced by Gov. Warren P. Knowles Tuesday.

Addressing the annual convention of the Wisconsin Electric Cooperative, the governor said the program will involve these four points:

1. A Crackdown on drunken drivers.
2. Strict Enforcement of traffic laws.
3. Encouraging the use of safety belts and stepping up efforts to improve driving attitudes.
4. Identifying problem drivers with the aim of improving them or barring them from the highways.

The governor, frustrated in the past by political maneuvering in his efforts to obtain stricter controls, emphasized that his program will not require new legislation.

'Close Cooperation'

"But it demands close cooperation and dedication by public officials at various levels of government," he declared.

"It is obvious that our efforts have not produced the results we hoped for. This year's death toll is racing ahead of the 1967 pace by more than 50 fatalities at this point."

Knowles was the second to be heard at the convention on traffic safety. Ralph Nader, the widely known crusader for consumers, covered that and various other of his irritations in a banquet address Monday evening.

But Nader by implication relegated the driver to a secondary role; he put his emphasis on building safer, stronger automobiles.

The governor said letters are going out to police authorities, prosecutors and judges, calling for their cooperation in a new,

Federal Employee Balks at Contribution 'Pressure' Charged in $250-a-Plate Dinner

WASHINGTON (AP) — A veteran civil servant who today denied he and other high-level employees of the Maritime Administration were summoned to a business hours meeting last week and pressured by their boss to contribute to a Democratic Party fund-raising dinner. The employee told the Associated Press the meeting was called by James W. Gulick, acting head of the Maritime Administration, for 79 members of his staff who had received invitations to the $250-a-plate dinner to be held April 4.

Gulick reportedly told those present that contributions were not being sought by arm twisting. But, the source said, Gulick added:

"If you want to make sure that you have a nice, clean file—and you can be sure that a file is kept somewhere—you know what to do."

Gulick denied he made such a statement.

'No Pressure'

"There was no pressure, no solicitation and whatever they wanted to do was in accordance with their own circumstances and their own positions," he said. "I'm inclined to think that this is a small minority that wants to think this way. I'm just at a loss to understand why."

John J. McCarthy, deputy general counsel for the Civil Service Commission, said his office was checking into the allegation that contributions were solicited and that if the findings warrant it, "We will investigate up to the hilt."

The invitations to the dinner, being given by Rep. Michael Kirwan, D-Ohio, and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, to President Johnson, went to 12,000 persons, including government personnel with a pay-grade level of GS-15 and above whose salaries range from $18,400 up.

The meeting on the question of contributions was called by Gulick for 11 a.m. last Thursday in a conference room near his office in the General Accounting Office building.

Gulick arrived at 11:10 a.m. with his general counsel, Carl C. Davis.

The source said Gulick took his place at the head of a long table before a standing-room-only crowd and said:

"I'm going to lay it on the line. I'm going to give it to you as it was given to me."

"C. R. Smith wisely turned this over to Howard Samuels (Bob Lee passed it on to me. The references were to the new secretary of commerce, the undersecretary of commerce and the special assistant to the secretary for public affairs, respectively.)

'$250 Too Much'

"C.R. Smith feels that $250 is too much. He thinks that perhaps $50 would be about right. Maybe some of you would like to go in together. You know it doesn't make any difference whether you go to the dinner."

"This thing comes up every four years. You are aware of it. All of you have received invitations to the congressional dinner on April 4. Now there's not going to be any arm twisting. I have to make a decision myself."

"It's a personal decision. Each of you will have to decide how important this is to you. This has been going on a long time, and incidentally it happened under Republicans, too."

"If you want to make sure that you have a nice clean file—and you can be sure that a file is kept somewhere—you know what to do."

One of Gulick's aides said he felt it was inconceivable that anyone left the meeting with a feeling that he had been pressured.

But the employee who was at the meeting said, "The tone of Gulick's remarks was that, 'I'm a nice guy and I'm not going to do anything to you (if you don't contribute) but...'"

"I've seen pressure before, but this is the worst I've ever run into," the source added.

Planes, Artillery Tanks Pressed Into Battle Over Hamlet

Heavy Fighting Stretches to Fourth Day Northwest of Saigon

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — American infantrymen supported by tanks, artillery and planes battled the Viet Cong today for control of a tiny hamlet northwest of Saigon in the fourth straight day of heavy fighting in the area.

Men of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division called in artillery and napalm air strikes only 50 to 100 yards ahead of them as they advanced into the hamlet of Ap Long Muc about 30 miles northwest of Saigon near the district town of Trang Bang.

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces have reported killing 396 enemy in the Trang Bang area since Sunday. Allied casualties were described as light.

Al Chang, an Associated Press photographer who was wounded slightly by shrapnel as U.S. tanks and armored personnel carriers moved up on Ap Long Muc, said the Viet Cong were well entrenched in the hamlet and greeted the advancing infantrymen with heavy machine-gun fire and a barrage of rocket-propelled grenades.

Enemy Dead
With the battle still raging, at least eight enemy dead were reported.

Meanwhile, U.S. headquarters said in another fight in the Trang Bang sector, 25th Division units killed 17 enemy after making a helicopter assault Tuesday four miles northeast of the town.

As the American infantrymen hit the ground, the Viet Cong were waiting for them. From trenches and bunkers, the enemy opened up with machine guns and rocket-propelled grenades.

By midafternoon today, sporadic fighting was reported continuing. Headquarters did not disclose U.S. casualties but said no Americans had been killed.

Quiet Thang
The action around Trang Bang is part of Operation Quiet Thang—Resolved to Win—the biggest allied offensive of the war.

More than 50 American and South Vietnamese battalions, totaling 50,000 men, are sweeping through five provinces around Saigon. The aim is to regain the offensive from the Viet Cong and to destroy enemy troops within striking distance of the capital.

The U.S. Command said that so far allied troops have killed 1,842 enemy and captured 293 prisoners and suspects since Quiet Thang began March 11. U.S. losses were listed at 69 killed and 604 wounded and South Vietnamese casualties at 92 killed and 232 wounded.

By U.S. reckoning, the allied forces are killing 11 enemy troops for every American and South Vietnamese soldier killed.

Provincial Capital
Elsewhere, Viet Cong shellings of the central highlands provincial capital of Ban Me Thuot and a government military post on the fringes of Saigon killed four civilians and wounded 14. Military casualties were light.

Over North Vietnam, U.S. pilots flew through enemy surface-to-air missiles and heavy antiaircraft fire Tuesday to attack three airfields, a chemical plant and a railroad yard during 82 missions. Headquarters said American pilots picked up several North Vietnamese MIG21 interceptors on their radar, but there were no encounters.

Castro Regime Banning Cock Fighting in Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Fidel Castro regime is banning cock fighting, long one of Cuba's most popular sports, because the fans and people who run the rooster fights are "enemies of the revolution."

Radio Havana, official voice of the island's Communist government, reported the ban Tuesday night in a broadcast monitored in Miami.

The sport, in which two specially bred roosters fight to the death, was introduced to Cuba about four centuries ago by Spaniards.

Nixon Urged Philippine Bombing, Foe Claims

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Republican candidate Harold Stassen says former Vice President Richard M. Nixon once urged the use of bombing raids and U.S. Marines to help put down a Communist uprising in the Philippines.

"It was felt we could get the approval of the Philippine government to do it," Stassen said Tuesday in an interview.

"President Eisenhower very clearly and emphatically turned the idea down," said Stassen, who is running against Nixon on the GOP ballot in the Wisconsin presidential primary April 2. Stassen said Nixon and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, now retired, argued for U.S. involvement in the Philippines early in 1953 at a meeting of Eisenhower's National Security Council.

Security Director
Stassen was director of mutual security and of the foreign operations administration at the time.

The idea was to hit at mountain retreats of the Communist-Huk insurgents, Stassen said. The insurgency was eventually quelled by the Philippine government without direct U.S. involvement.

The off-time candidate for president said he and Defense

Czech Liberalization Worries Reds

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovak Communist Party chief Alexander Dubcek said today fellow Communist leaders he met with at Dresden, East Germany, last weekend expressed "a certain concern" over the Czech liberalization drive.

New critical statements against the most liberal Czech elements came Tuesday night from party ideologists in East Berlin and Budapest, Hungary. But approval of developments was voiced by the leader of the Italian Communist Party.

Dubcek, who replaced the old-line boss Antonin Novotny, as party head, also disclosed that Communist leaders agreed that an economic summit conference should be held soon. He told the Czechoslovak News Agency that Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin spoke at Dresden "on problems and prospects of economic growth in Socialist (Communist) countries." Kosygin asked that the forthcoming conference "find new and realistic ways for the development of economic cooperation."

Soviet Concern
This line indicates growing Russian concern over lack of economic assistance among Communist bloc members and moves by several members such as Czechoslovakia to step up trade with the West.

Czech representatives at Dresden filled in other delegates "on the present process of rejuvenation in this country," Dubcek said.

"No wonder that a certain concern was also displayed at the consultative meeting," he added, "especially in the sense that anti-Socialist elements should not take advantage of the democratization process."

The Slovak minority, for example, has urged that more political parties are needed to "safeguard Socialist democracy," but Dubcek and his associates have made clear there is no room for genuine opposition parties. Local elections scheduled for May 19 have been postponed until June, however, so that voting procedures could be made more democratic.

Minister Denounced
In East Berlin Tuesday night, Kurt Hager, secretary of the East German Communist Party's central committee, denounced Czech Forestry Minister Josef Smrkovsky, a leading candidate for the presidency. The Czech party presidium is to choose the president Saturday from among four candidates.

Hager charged that Smrkovsky's speeches have given the West German government—East Germany's bitter rival—the hope that Czechoslovakia would break from the Communist bloc.

Besides Smrkovsky, 56, other candidates for the Czech presidency are Gen. Ludvik Svoboda, 73; Ladislav Novomyeski, a publicist, and Dr. Cestomir Cisar, former ambassador to Romania. The presidency is largely a ceremonial post, but the election is expected to make way for a government reshuffle along liberal lines.

In Budapest, Zoltan Komocsin, the chief ideologist of the Hungarian Communist Party, declared Tuesday night that "anti-Socialist rightist forces

Pacification Funds Provided by CIA

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Central Intelligence Agency provides "a fairly substantial part" of the equipment and funds for South Vietnam's pacification effort, an informed official said today.

The source commented after a resigning U.S. official said the CIA supervises and funds the pacification program.

CIA funding of the program "is a matter of public knowledge," said the source, who is fully informed on the U.S. role in pacification. He declined to estimate the dollar value of CIA support, saying only that it was substantial.

He added that support of the pacification program was being transferred to the Department of Defense.

CIA Agents
The source said American advisers to Vietnamese officials in the pacification program included CIA agents as well as military officers, State Department and U.S. Information Service personnel.

In a letter of resignation as a field coordinator for the New Life-hamlet-development program, Sidney J. Roche complained that the CIA is an intelligence-gathering organization incapable of supervising pacification, "a very worthwhile program."

But, he said, the CIA is primary supervisor of the program and the cost is not known since funding is from CIA sources not subject to public inspection.

Roche said 50,000 South Vietnamese pacification workers were "recruited, trained and paid under the auspices of the Central Intelligence Agency."

Ambassador Robert W. Komer, head of the U.S. pacification program, replied that Roche was involved in supply operations and had "no contact whatsoever in more than a year with our other programs. The guy must be making it up."

Komer, who was a member of the CIA for 14 years after World War II, declined to comment further, saying "I'm not going to dignify this guy's ridiculous comments."

"I'm much more interested in what's going on in the countryside and in getting the pacification program working," he said.

Congressman Wants Probe FAA Plane Use Challenged

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressman who wants a probe into why the Federal Aviation Administration needs a 101-plane fleet, says one of the FAA's 83-passenger jets was used to transport 26 women on a public relations trip.

Rep. Fletcher Thompson, R-Ga., said the trip last Oct. 26 was logged by the FAA as a training flight.

Thompson's remarks were in a House speech prepared for delivery today.

He contended the FAA fleet of jets and other planes cost taxpayers more than $31 million to run in the past two years.

Thompson called for an investigation by the House Government Operations Committee.

Public Relations Trip
He said one of the many jets owned by FAA is an 83-passenger Boeing 727 used last October to fly 26 women on a public relations trip from Oklahoma City and Washington to Atlanta and return. He added the trip was logged as a training flight.

The purpose of the trip was to inspect the air traffic control system at the Atlanta Municipal Airport, he said.

Thompson used data from the Government Accounting Office.

GAO reported the women were members of the FAA "Women's Advisory Committee on Aviation" and that their use of the plane "was within the agency's guidelines for the use of its aircraft."

"But this statement raises more questions than it answers," Thompson said.

"Just what kind of regulations does the FAA have that will allow a $4 million aircraft with a capacity of 83 passengers to be used legitimately at the people's expense to ferry 26 women and three crewmen on a 1,200 mile flight?"

The GAO report, he said, shows that FAA owns 101 planes.

Thompson, a pilot himself, said it "is unnecessary for the FAA to maintain this large fleet of aircraft to maintain the proficiency of its safety agents, when it is possible for these personnel to better maintain their proficiency for millions of dollars of less cost by means of a contract agreement with the various airlines."

DAY OR NIGHT

Rusk Holding
Fewer Talks
With Newsmen

Secretary Hasn't Had Conference
Since January

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk is closing in on his own modern-day record of not holding scheduled Washington news conferences.

If Rusk meets with the Washington news corps before heading off this weekend to an international conference it will be his first such news session since a year-ender last Jan. 4.

The State Department press office has the usual requests from reporters to question Rusk before his Saturday departure for a series of three meetings at Wellington, New Zealand, with the foreign ministers of nations concerned with the Vietnam war.

Secretary Rusk

So far, there is no sign he will say yes.

58 Conferences

During his first seven years as secretary of state—and counting the January meeting—Rusk has held 58 formal news conferences in Washington for an average of about 8 a year.

He averaged one a month during 1964, the last presidential campaign year, while holding only five a year in 1963 and 1967.

Comparing this with his predecessors in the op U.S. foreign policy post over the past 20 years, State Department files show:

—Secretary of State George C. Marshall or his stand-in as acting secretary held 51 scheduled news conferences in 1948, approximately one a week.

—During Dean Acheson's four-year tenure, there were 146 such conferences, or about 36 a year.

—John Foster Dulles held 119 news conferences during his six years as secretary of state for an average of about 20 a year.

Other Appearances

The figures do not include many other public appearances by Rusk and his predecessors, private meetings with newsmen or news conferences outside the capital.

For example, Rusk testified at length before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on March 11-12.

On Feb. 9, he met with a group of newsmen on a background or no-attribution basis, and what he said was subsequently printed and attributed. On Feb. 4, he went on a nationally televised program with then-Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Next April 15-16, he plans to speak, again on a no-attribution basis, to a twice-a-year gathering at the State Department of editors and broadcasters from around the country.

Rusk and his aides have given various reasons over the years about why he was not holding news conferences on one occasion or another. The most frequent explanation has been that he had a heavy schedule of other commitments.

Doesn't Relish

But a common impression among reporters covering the State Department is that Rusk doesn't relish on-the-record question-and-answer sessions on foreign affairs situation with large numbers of newsmen—even though he may enjoy talking with many of them privately.

At his first Washington news conference, on Feb. 6, 1961, Rusk said, "I do hope to have frequent press conferences." He held 10 in 1961, eight in 1962 and five in 1963.

In 1966, Rusk told a March 25 news conference, "I expect to have perhaps some more press conferences than I have had recently." That year he had 10, the following year 5.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM
FOR EASTER

Los Angeles:—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available at H. C. Frange Co. and other stores with fashion spirit.

Softener Washes Dingy Gray Away

A hard fact of life in hard water areas is that many people are walking around in leftover soap or detergent, minerals and even dirt. If enough of these leftovers build up, clothes take on a dingy grayness.

There's a simple way to find out whether your laundry methods get clothes completely clean. Fill the washer with water. Add a cup of a non-precipitating water softener — just the softener, nothing else. Put a load of clothes through a wash cycle. If that wash water becomes sudsy, you know it's from leftover detergent or soap. Don't blame your favorite washing product. Blame the water, and decide to condition your wash and rinse water with a non-precipitating softener.

Why non-precipitating? While any water softener can soften hard water, only the non-precipitating softener helps prevent the minerals, suds and dirt from settling back on the clothes. The U. S. Department of Agriculture explains the difference this way:

Dissolves Soap Curd
"The precipitating softeners settle out the minerals in the water, making the water cloudy or turbid as the minerals are removed from solution. Non-precipitating products combine with the minerals in such a way that they remain dissolved and do not react with soap or form insoluble soap curds. Non-precipitating softeners also can be used to dissolve soap curd from fabrics."

Trim-Line Toppings for Potatoes

No need to pass up baked potatoes because of those rich, high calorie toppings. Now you can enjoy fluffy, baked potatoes with these flavorful, trim-line toppings.

Designed with the weight watcher in mind, these toppings add a minimum of calories to the already, low-fat potato.

The first choice of toppings combines low calorie cottage cheese with the bright red of pimiento and the zingy flavor of chives. As a substitute for sour cream, yogurt joins with celery seed and horseradish in a sharp, savory topping. By using yogurt, calories are reduced, yet the tangy creaminess of sour cream remains.

The third topping is a heated sauce made with skim milk and condensed mushroom soup. The surprise that canned soups have a fairly low calorie count makes this sauce convenient, plus delicious.

Potatoes are a dieter's delight because of their high nutritious value in proportion to their low calorie content. A medium baked potato (3½ ounces) contains approximately 93 calories plus a healthful supply of iron, protein and vitamins C and B.

Potatoes only become "fattening" when served with calorie-laden accompaniments. Discover how good they are the low calorie way. Season plain, boiled potatoes with spices such as dill, flavored salts, caraway seed or cumin. Also try sprinkling them with parsley, lemon juice or diet French dressing. And for those freshly baked potatoes, try one or all of these delectable stay-slim toppings.

The Practical Gardener Good Soil Unlocks Door To Successful Gardening

In gardening a good soil unlocks the door to success. Without it, little else avails. And to be a good soil it should be crumbly, workable, fertile, well aerated, be moisture-retentive yet drain well.

Soils are classified as sandy, loamy or clayey by the size of the particles. Sandy soils warm up best in spring but water tends to run through them too readily and they dry out easily. To remedy this shovel over it at least 2 inches of compost, peat or other organic matter and mix it in thoroughly the full depth of the spade or fork. This will greatly increase its water-holding capacity and supply food for the helpful bacteria needed to keep soil fertile.

If the soil is clayey, the looseness of the compost etc. will greatly increase the drainage while also aiding the bacteria. Thus a 2-inch layer of organic matter spaded in will aid soil composition and fertility. Only a really good loam which few gardeners have has little need of added organic matter. Yet, even there, it is well to dig some in every few years for it tends to disappear.

Other Things Needed

But, organic matter is not the whole story. A good garden soil also needs its chemical elements (especially nitrogen, phosphorus and potash) to be replenished from time to time. Thus, each spring it helps to incorporate into the soil 3 to 5 pounds of a good, balanced fertilizer per 100 square feet as well as to hoe a little in around each plant or between the rows while your plants are growing.

In acid soil areas lime also plays an important part. A single soil test will usually show how much is needed. Frequently in such places about 3 pounds per 100 square feet is also helpful.

Lovelier You The Ruffle 'Do'

The most feminine and romantic hair style around town is titled "The Ruffle." It features a lavish show of whisper-soft curls and waves. After nearly 10 years of straight hair, the look of curls is refreshing.

Ruffle styling calls for fairly short hair. Cutting tapers the length from about 4½" at the crown to 3½" at the nape. This gives the hair great mobility, so that curls and waves may be arranged for individual flattery. Curls may swing toward the face or toward the crown, behind the ears or over the ears.

Actually no two stylings are exactly alike. Nothing about the Ruffle is rubber stamp. When the hair can take it, there may be suggestion of a part. Airy tendrils replace straight bangs and fringes. Only one factor remains constant and that is an over-all natural effect. The hair always appears a natural toss of natural curls.

The sure means of achieving naturalness is with an innerbody perm. Contour permanents, through new salon-created short curling rods, give the hair delicate bounce, body and shape.

Other than charm, a Ruffle "do" possesses secret advantages. It's a great way to fill out a sketchy head of hair. And it's the easiest way to grow out a boy cut. Anyone for curls?

Above, a casserole of green beans and canned beef and macaroni in tomato sauce goes very well with crisp, raw vegetables for nibbling, a glass of milk and baked apple topped with whipped cream.

Sour cream and Parmesan cheese join with creamy cottage cheese to give the noodle casserole, right, a wonderful flavor.

Flavorful Casserole for a Busy Day

There are days when life becomes hectic and preparing nutritious, attractive food is a problem. The children still must be fed bright and health-keeping lunches whether there's a church or club committee meeting early in the afternoon or not. Sometimes, a busy homemaker has a day of community activities or just plain housekeeping errands that literally "eat" up the morning or afternoon to make any meal schedule a nip and tuck affair.

The following casserole dishes are designed for just such harried days, depending on either canned products or quickly prepared foods such as noodles from the cupboard. They're not just plain food at all... each and every recipe is pepped up into a sparkling dish by an imaginative home economist. They're great and worth trying.

- 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco sauce
- Dash of pepper
- 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Cook noodles according to package directions; drain. In a small skillet melt butter; add celery and onion; saute 5 minutes. In a bowl combine noodles, sauteed vegetables, cottage cheese, sour cream, salt, Worcestershire and Tabasco sauces and pepper. Turn into a 1 1/2-quart buttered casserole. Sprinkle grated cheese over top.

Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven 15 minutes. Recipe makes six servings.

Using back of tablespoon, make four depressions about same size as meat balls at intervals in the spaghetti. Fill depressions with sour cream. Sprinkle mixture with Parmesan cheese. Bake for 20 minutes. Gently mix together. Recipe makes two or three servings.

FRANKFURTER STRIPED RAVIOLI

To End Sink Shocks Call Electrician

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: Lately my daughter and I have been receiving more and more small electric shocks have things stored. What can when working in the kitchen sink. The floor is dry, yet when I touch a faucet, I get the shock. Same in the laundry sink. Our house is completely electrified. My husband does not believe this is due to static electricity. What do you think?—Worcester.

A: Sounds as though an expert should find out why some grounding is faulty and fix it. Sooner you get the electrician, the less shocking your life will be, ma'am.

Q: Spraying, even every day, can't get rid of the flies in our attic. They seem to be everywhere: even in boxes where I have things stored. What can you suggest?—Columbus (Kenton, O.)

A: Surest way is to get a good exterminator. Sometimes amateur efforts are like sending a boy to do a man's job. He may even have to pry loose a board or two before he can locate fly "headquarters" and clean out the place.

Q: When I turn on the upstairs tub, the water runs rusty for a few minutes, then it becomes clear. What is causing this? Only the hot water. —Milwaukee.

A: Usually this means rust at a fitting, and it won't get better. Unless you can have a plumber replace the rushing conditions, you'll just have to live with what you have now.

Q: I have been told the reason my kitchen faucet drips is because of a worn washer. If so, is this a job a definitely not-skilled amateur can tackle?—Worcester.

A: Frankly, it's not as simple as some people may tell you. But by no means difficult. Very first step of all is to shut off the water. Otherwise you'll have an embarrassing gusher when you loosen the big nut which holds the faucet assembly in place. Pad the jaws of your wrench so they won't scratch. With the nut loosened lift the faucet "works" out. At the bottom of the stem you'll find the washer, secured with a screw. Simply replace this worn part. Then, using a seat dressing tool (available any hardware store or plumbing supplies house) smooth the surface of the circular platform at the base of the faucet. This is where the washer rests. Then when you replace the stem, with the new washer, there'll be no worn spots where water can leak through and cause the dripping.

Compassion Key to Living With an Alcoholic Parent

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: May I say a word to the girl with the alcoholic father? She signed her letter "Can't Call Him Daddy." That letter could have been written by me, 10 years ago. How vividly I recall the day I found my rabbit dead in her buys ridiculously extravagant gifts for her favorite niece — our 11-year-old daughter, Mary (A cashmere coat with mink collar and cuffs and a matching mink hood for Christmas). Whatever Mary sees she can get her Aunt Bonnie to buy. Yesterday I told Mary she could not have a second pair of white boots so she telephoned her Aunt Bonnie and they are going shopping tomorrow. What can I do? — Defeated

Dear Defeated: If you allow a stupid aunt to mess up your daughter's life it is your fault, not hers. Tell Aunt Bonnie, in Mary's presence, that she is not to buy one single thing for the girl unless you approve in advance. If she sends something unauthorized, send it back.

What Aunt Bonnie thinks is generosity is ruination. Lavishing gifts on a child is a poor way to demonstrate interest.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: May I give a word of advice to the woman who threw out her dinner night after night because her husband wouldn't telephone and let her know he had a business meeting and would be a few hours late?

I had the same problem, only my husband wasn't held up by anything so high class as a business meeting. He used to stop off at a bar and get stoned. When he finally decided to come home, his dinner was either grease-soaked or burned and I had to throw it out and start all over. After a few years I got smart and told him I wasn't going to start dinner until I saw the whites of his eyes — unless, of course, he telephoned to say he was on his way. After coming home and finding no dinner six or seven times he decided he'd better call. This is how I solved the problem. — Binghamton, N. Y.

Dear Bing: Three cheers for a smart lady in Binghamton! This approach will not work in every case, but it's bound to work in some. Thanks for the suggestion. * * * What is French kissing? Is it wrong? Who should set the necking limits — the boy or the girl? Can a shotgun wedding succeed? Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Sex — Ten Ways To Cool It." Send 50 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

cage I ran to tell my father the terrible news, hoping for a word of comfort. Instead, my mother closed the bedroom door and said, "Don't bother your Dad tonight. He's sick."

There seemed to be numerous occasions when Dad was "sick" but it wasn't until years later that I realized he was an alcoholic. There were times when I hated him for embarrassing me and then I'd feel guilty for my horrible thoughts. But through the years my thinking has changed. Dad still drinks but the hate is gone and I feel sad that I cannot help him.

So try something, "Can't Call Him Daddy" say a little prayer and ask for help in overcoming your feeling of hate. Ask that the hate be replaced with compassion and understanding. Then one day you will be able to put your arms around him and say, "I may despise some of the things you do, Daddy, but I love you" — His Daughter

Dear Daughter: The ability to replace hatred with compassion and understanding does even more for the hater than for the hated. Thank you for writing.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband's sister never married. Bonnie "went with" a man who had a cloudy reputation. When he died last year she came into a great deal of money.

We are not millionaires but I have a good income and we have everything we need. The problem is that Aunt Bonnie

Home Improvement Pays in Satisfaction, Resale Value

BY MARY FEELEY

Thinking about applying for a home improvement loan for the first time? If so, you're probably asking yourself: How much will it cost me now? And how much can I expect to profit from it later? The first is easier to answer than the second. Some lenders who specialize in this field estimate that the homeowner can expect to get about 25 cents on every home improvement dollar spent, in terms of resale value. Others say it depends on the specific improvement, plus the way the property is selling in that particular neighborhood. However, there are two kinds of profit to be derived from fixing up your home — the probable cash return, and the simple satisfaction the family is going to get out of more comfortable living. And a house with improvements is likely to sell faster. You might find it helpful to look over these Q's and A's before you decide on how much and for what, you want to borrow: Q: Is money hard to come by right now for home improvements? A: No. Banks which handle a volume of such loans still offer FHA short term Title I loans, as well as Bank Improvement Loans on a five-to-seven year repayment plan. Q: Do you have to have an FHA mortgage to get an FHA home improvement loan? A: No, one's not dependent on the other. Q: Is an FHA loan more advantageous than a bank loan? A: In costs, yes — since the rate is somewhat lower. But there's a limit ($3500) on the amount of an FHA Title I loan, and time in which to repay. Also, certain specifications must be met as to the kind of improvements which may be made under FHA. For instance, swimming pools, barbecue pits, tennis courts would not meet FHA specifications. Q: What alterations or additions are considered most profitable, from a resale standpoint? A: Real estate experts cite an extra bathroom, modernization of the kitchen, an extra "convertible" room, as guest room or den. Q: What does an FHA Title I loan cost? A: You can borrow $3500 for up to five years and 32 days, at $5 discount per $100 up to $2500; $4 discount per $100 for any amount in excess of $2500. Repay $3500 at approximately $72 a month over five years. Q: Does the homeowner borrow direct from a lender? A: There are two ways to obtain a FHA Title I loan: (1) go direct to a lender and make arrangements, giving him copies of the estimates of the work you want done. (2) Let your contractor make the arrangements. In this case, the lender will withhold payment until he receives a "completion certificate" signed by you, stating that all terms of the agreement you made with the contractor have been fulfilled.

tor, spell out what's to be done, know how much monthly payments are to be, and how many of them. Q: Is a Bank Home Improvement Loan more desirable in some circumstances? A: Yes, if you want more money, with a longer repayment privilege, and no specifications required as to what type of improvement is to be done. Such loans vary with different areas. In special cases, seven years rather than five may be allowed to pay off the loan. As much as $5,000 may be obtained. Figure on $5 to $7 discount on or add-on per $100 a year. Monthly payment can be approximately $21.50 per $1,000.

Imaginative Dash
Give pie pastry new flavor. When you are making up the dough for a 9-inch pie, you can add about ¼ cup of sesame seeds.
Ever add sauteed mushrooms to a cheese sauce? Nice to serve with plain broiled fish.
When you are braising beef brisket add a bay leaf to the braising liquid.
borrowed for five years — 6 per cent discount per year per $100. (For a copy of Mary Feeley's "Make Every Dollar Count," send $1 to Dollar Booklet in care of this newspaper.)

Signs of Battle Remain

Once-Beautiful City of Hue Gradually Returning to Life

By RICHARD MERRON
Associated Press Photographer
HUE, Vietnam (AP) — Gradually Hue is striving to bring itself back from the ravages of the lunar new year fighting. It is going to be a long process.

Everywhere in this city 380 miles northeast of Saigon there still are signs of the Vietnam war's longest sustained battle—25 days of fighting that wrecked the city in February. There are destroyed, burned-out buildings, and marks of shells and bullets in the old capital's walls and battlements.

Little by little the people are trying to restore life to what once was considered South Vietnam's most beautiful city.

Most of the work so far is being done by the people themselves and is centered on their own property—homes, shops or places of business. They have cleared much of the rubble left from the fighting and they are patching up buildings and trying to return a semblance of physical order.

Student volunteers from Saigon University and other schools have come to Hue to help with the job of rebuilding.

The official task of reconstruction is moving slowly, however. One American noted that the Tua Thien province chief who had authority over Hue was fired and that other administrative officials are no longer in their posts—either moved missing, wounded or killed.

The same thing is true on the American side with an almost complete changeover in personnel since the offensive.

"We got 14 brand-new people here," said one U.S. official, "and many of them don't even know where province headquarters is yet."

This official also noted the possibility of another enemy attack still is "very much on people's mind, and Westy's press conference didn't help."

He referred to a recent new conference statement by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in South Vietnam, who said he thought Hue might be the next target of a new enemy offensive.

The U.S. Military Assistant Command (MACV) compound here is back to normal with only the marks of bullets and shells to denote recent fighting. The movie schedule at the compound this week included the TV film "Combat." A goose that fled into the MACV compound during the fighting has been adopted as an official mascot.

The main bridge spanning the perfume River between the new and old sections of Hue was blown up during the fighting but now is usable for limited traffic as a result of a 100-foot pontoon link put in by U.S. Marines.

Traffic across the bridge is single file and during the busy hours hundreds of people wait to make the crossing. Somehow they make it, pushing bicycles, motorcycles and handcarts up the 45 degree incline to reach one side or the other.

Women wash clothes from the edge of the structure. Occasionally a Vietnamese man will jump into the water and wash the clothes he is wearing and himself at the same time.

"The people are just living from day to day," said one American official, "but they are living. I suppose it's the natural resiliency of the Vietnamese people."

False Alarm Sends Firemen to School

A false alarm, called in through the Neenah Police Department, brought several units of the Appleton Fire Department to James Madison Junior High School about 10 a.m. Tuesday.

A young caller telephoned Neenah police who relayed the message to Appleton police who notified firemen.

day-to-day examples of what it means to be a man. A girl needs a father to help her develop pride in being a feminine person. All children need fathers who can discipline firmly and with love, who can be tender and understanding as well as strong men. Father is the most important man a child encounters. If you need further convincing, read the booklet, "Making the Grade as Dad." It's yours for 25 cents and your name and address sent to this column, in care of The Post-Crescent.

3. Can people be inoculated against propaganda?

Yes—No—

Yes. Usually the best way of doing so is by free debate. When people are carefully kept from ideas different from those of their own group, exposure can wreak havoc with their faith. But if, as they are growing up, they are exposed to all kinds of views, they learn to select those which seem valid, and become relatively immune to attacks upon their faith.

Careless Cougher Is Spreader of Disease

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Would you please, please write about people who don't cover their mouths when they cough?

We have a dear friend who has cancer and coughs over food, friends and even children with never a thought of the germs she is spreading. When she has a cold, everyone in her family gets it.

I have tried hints and talking of the dangers of spreading germs, but it doesn't sink in. I know she reads your column, so an article might help. — Mrs. C.S.

The cancer aspect is of minor importance, since cancer isn't spread by germs. It isn't contagious.

But nobody knows how much other disease is spread by careless coughing — certainly a great deal.

For example, one thing that a patient learns in any well-run tuberculosis hospital is to cover a cough. Such patients learn to keep disposable tissues handy. When a cough starts to tickle, up comes a tissue to muffle it and catch the invisible droplets of moisture.

That is aimed primarily at preventing the spread of TB, but there are plenty of other harmful germs that shouldn't be coughed into other folks' faces or food.

Cold germs are the ones we think of mainly—colds and flu. But there can be various throat infections, minor or major, and infection means germs. A cough can spray those germs. The germs, by and large, are carried on the tiny water droplets, which can fly a considerable distance — several feet — from a cough.

I remember an anecdote I read many years ago. Can't remember where, and whether it was fact or fiction, but it was about a young doctor coughing in an operating room. The crusty surgeon fixed him with a cold eye and said, "Dr. Blank, wouldn't you like to come over here and spit in this patient's abdomen?"

Of course, these days no freecoughing doctor would get through his training without changing his ways, and no unmasked person is permitted in an operating room. The masks aren't designed to stifle an occasional cough. They are to prevent even the breath from nose or mouth carrying germs into the atmosphere near the patient.

Disposable tissues are best for shielding a cough, but next best is your pocket handkerchief. If you don't carry a handkerchief, at least cover mouth and nose with your hand, and turn your head away from other people or from their dinner plates.

Healthwise, there isn't much difference between coughing in a person's face or spitting in his face. In fact, the cough, which sprays the germs, may be more dangerous.

Dear Dr. Molner: My daughter is six years old, 48 inches tall and weighs 64½ pounds, and most of her weight is in her stomach and seat. A doctor gave her a clean bill of health and said not to worry about her weight, but children have been teasing her at school lately.

Should we consider her overweight? — If so, we would like to see this changed before it becomes more serious. — Mrs. C.F.

One reliable weight chart shows her to be 12 pounds overweight for her height and age. Cutting down on sweets and excessive fats in her diet may help get her on the right track. It is also important that she get adequate exercise. Many overweight children, especially girls, have been found to be too inactive physically.

Dear Dr. Molner: I grind my teeth when I'm asleep. Is there some way I can prevent it? — E.V.

Likeliest cause is some chronic tension or irritation — one frequent cause is pinworm infection. Worth investigating.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readable questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible. (Copyright, 1968)

Should more seats be added to the Packer stadium this summer?

as the greatest hazard on the state's highways.

"Recent court decisions made it clear that law enforcement officers can require all persons arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol to submit to a chemical test for intoxication," he pointed out.

Arrest and identification of drunks behind the wheel, the governor stressed, does little good if prosecuting attorneys don't prosecute, if charges are reduced or if judges make mockery of justice.

"If we are to do more than pay mere lip service to highway safety, those of us in responsible public positions have no alternative but to crack down on the drunken driver. He is killing and injuring innocent citizens," Knowles continued.

He stressed that the effectiveness of safety belts has been established beyond a doubt. Yet surveys show that only 15 percent of the drivers use them regularly.

Knowles said he hopes to increase the use of safety belts and to improve "driver attitudes" through a saturation program of public education being developed by the state highway safety coordinator. He also has directed the Motor Vehicle Division to expand its counseling program to "include every possible problem driver."

He urged citizens to indicate their concern by contacting local law enforcement officers, the district attorney or city attorney, the judges and the state legislators.

"Let them know you will support their efforts to crack down on those who threaten your family through the lawless use of an automobile. Let them know that you want them to get tough, and then stand by them when they do," Knowles challenged his audience.

Senate Approval Likely

Tax-Spending Plan Given Little Chance to Pass House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sponsors predict the Senate will approve their bid to combine President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income-tax surcharge with a $6 billion spending cut. But they concede it's doubtful the House will buy such a plan.

The Senate was scheduled to vote late today on the combination proposal, which is an amendment to the House-passed bill extending excise taxes on cars and telephone service.

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., a co-sponsor of the tax-spending cut legislation, said key members of the House Ways and Means Committee have told him they would not accept it.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the Ways and Means Committee has opposed Johnson's tax-hike proposal and expects a powerful influence over his committee. In addition, the House committee traditionally originates all tax legislation and is not likely to surrender that role to the Senate.

In a related action, the Senate Tuesday voted 51 to 32 to overrule a Treasury Department order against the increasing use of tax-exempt municipal bonds to finance new industrial plants for private firms.

The Treasury last Friday had canceled the tax exemption privilege for new issues of the industrial development bonds.

Lost Revenue
A department spokesman estimated the government lost more than $75 million in revenue last year through the issuance of such bonds. The department contends the original idea of tax-exempt bonds was to finance the building of public facilities rather than plants for private industry.

Democratic leaders are driving to win final Senate passage by tonight of the excise-tax bill with its surcharge-spending cut amendment, so a conference on it can be held Thursday with the House.

The measure must be signed into law by Sunday. Otherwise excise levies on autos and telephone service will drop sharply on Monday. The present rates are extended by the bill.

In a test vote Tuesday, the Senate declined, 56 to 33, to strike from the bill the four provisions designed to cut federal expenditures.

In another test, it turned back, 52 to 35, an effort to eliminate the 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

However, the two voting line-ups were not the same so it was not certain the entire package would be accepted.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., floor manager for the bill, said he was not convinced the full Senate would go along with the package.

He said that he doubted many senators realized how deeply the proposal of Smathers and Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., would slash public works projects in their states.

In addition to the $6 billion spending cut in the next fiscal year, the amendment would reduce new appropriations by $10 billion, freeze all public works projects, and roll back federal employment by 315,600 persons.

him as a man who brought statehood to us."

But Burns described Kennedy's aspirations as "interesting." He said the challenges "further demonstrate that the Democratic Party is an open party."

New Hampshire Gov. John W. King, a leader of the controversial Johnson write-in campaign in the March primary there, is solidly in the Johnson camp. Indiana Gov. Roger D. Branigan has agreed to run as a Johnson stand-in in the state's May 7 presidential primary.

In Kansas, Gov. Robert Docking has said it would be most unusual if the state delegation doesn't back the President, at least on the first ballot at the convention. But a Docking aide said it now appears that although the state party convention next weekend will bind the 40-member delegation to a unit rule, it will not be committed.

Others joining Docking in reversing decision are Gov. John Bell Williams of Mississippi, Mills E. Godwin of Virginia, Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri, Dan K. Moore of North Carolina and Kenneth E. Curtis of Maine. Alabama Gov. Lurleen Wallace supports her husband, former Gov. George Wallace in his third party quest for the presidency. Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia has been critical of Johnson, McCarthy and Kennedy.

Chevelle's new style, power and road stance aren't the only reasons it's the most popular mid-size car.

Chevelle SS 396 Sport Coupe (foreground) and Malibu Sport Coupe.

One more reason: Its prices start a full $100 lower than any competitive models.

Why is Chevelle so popular? It's a quick-size car, yet it's got big-car ride. That's because its wide stance chassis has a full coil spring at each wheel.

Chevelle offers a choice of wheelbases, too: 112 inches for coupes and convertibles and four inches more for sedans and wagons.

Chevelle is popular because it performs. In the recent NASCAR sanctioned Union/Pure Oil Performance Trials, a Chevelle SS 396 won the Sports Intermediate Class, placing first in both economy and braking.

In the Intermediate 6-Cylinder Class, a Chevelle 300 also outperformed all the others, scoring the highest number of total points in the economy, acceleration and braking tests.

Popular, too, is Chevelle's price. It starts lower than the competitors', so you can order one equipped the way you want it without bending your budget.

London Gold Talks Under Way

LONDON (AP) — Urgent and secret talks were under way today among London's bullion dealers to devise a new plan for operating a free market in the world's largest gold trading center. The fate of the dollar may be at stake.

The London market was closed two weeks ago at the height of the gold rush. Its major source of supply, the monetary reserves of the gold pool nations, including the United States, was cut off by the central bankers meeting in Washington March 17.

The market was ordered to remain closed until next Monday.

The bankers in effect decreed a two-tier system for gold trading — one level for trading between central banks at the fixed price of $35 an ounce, and a free market price determined by supply and demand.

Smooth operation of the London market would lessen the risk of manipulation, because a bigger market is harder to fix. The French are believed to have tried to influence the Paris market at the height of the gold rush when London closed down.

The Bank of France, acting on government instructions, is reported to have offered gold at an artificially high price to impress the central bankers meeting the next day in Washington.

Dealers in London said a statement on the future of the market here is expected Thursday or Friday at the latest.

A number of imponderables have been delaying a decision, however.

The most important is the attitude of South Africa, which as the Western world's major gold mining nation would be the largest source of new gold. In the past South Africa sold its gold in London through the Bank of England. This enabled the bank to regulate supply and stabilize the market.

Dealers and government officials here were confident that South Africa would continue to sell through London because it charges lower commissions than Paris or Zurich and better facilities than those smaller markets.

The dealers were awaiting a clue in the annual budget statement to be presented in Cape Town today by South Africa's Finance Minister Nicholas Diedericks.

Demand for gold in European markets has driven the price up steadily during the past few days. Tuesday it spurted above $40 an ounce because of fears that this weekend's meeting of finance ministers in Stockholm will be blocked by the French from working out a new paper unit partly to replace gold.

Monetary officials fear that if the gold price rises much above $45, it would be difficult to operate the two-tier gold system, worked out to give breathing space to the United States as it tried to bring down its balance of payments deficit.

In Zurich it was revealed that the main Swiss banks have resumed trading in gold futures on the Zurich free bullion market.

The banks suspended futures trading last November during the first gold rush as the price started to edge up from the traditional $35 an ounce. This ban continued until the final gold panic when spot trading was halted March 14.

Banking sources said it is now felt safe to resume the futures market following the establishment of the two-tier gold price system by the central bankers.

With the current free price around $40 an ounce, Swiss bankers apparently feel that there will be no sharp increase in the near future.

McCarthy Aides Quit in Huff

By HARRY KELLY
Associated Press Writer

WAUSAU (AP)—A top aide of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy today described a mutiny in the presidential candidate's "Children's Crusade" as a "tempest in a teapot."

Richard N. Goodwin, a campaign adviser to McCarthy and a speech writer for the late John F. Kennedy, said in a post-midnight statement that the two aides who turned in resignations Tuesday were "just a little upset," and would be back on the job in a week.

Goodwin, the man who coined "great society" for President Johnson, said he had talked with McCarthy about the resignations, and that the situation had been over dramatized.

Talks Planned

Press secretary Seymour Hersh and his aide, Mary Lou Oates, 23, who likes to call the college students helping in the McCarthy campaign "my kids," turned in resignations effective

April 2—primary day.

"I heard they were somewhat unhappy," McCarthy acknowledged Tuesday. "But I haven't talked to them."

So far, he said, the resignations have not been accepted. He said he intends to talk to them when he returns to Milwaukee from Chicago later today.

There were reports both Hersh and Miss Oates were under pressure from other directions to withdraw the resignations.

What's the trouble? Neither Hersh or Miss Oates, both former reporters, would talk on the record. But there were reasons that could be drawn from reports and the observations of those close to the campaign.

Young Activists

Both Hersh and Miss Oates, described as among the young activists in contrast to the pragmatic professionals on McCarthy's campaign staff were said to be unhappy that McCarthy was not campaigning more aggressively in Negro areas in Wisconsin.

They were reported to have been overruled by a decision not to overplay campaigning for Negro votes in Milwaukee for fear of alienating persons angered by a long campaign in that city for open housing, led by the Rev. James E. Groppi, white Roman Catholic adviser to a civil rights youth group.

In addition, Hersh, in particular, was responsible for relations with the press in a presidential campaign which sometimes showed a tendency to ignore old campaign techniques.

McCarthy himself has remarked to newsmen: "I don't need money, I don't need talent, I don't need an organization. I just need running room."

Hersh, who had no previous experience in working on a national political campaign, and some other members of the McCarthy staff, saw frustration at what they described as the senator running a "one-man show."

Mayor Will Not Call Council Session for Questioned Land Buys

Aldermen Claim Administration Should Not Operate as a Jury

Mayor George Buckley announced today he will not call a special Appleton City Council meeting at this time in connection with questions raised over land purchases of a former mayor.

"I discussed the matter with a few aldermen and they wondered why the council should become involved — that it's not a jury," Buckley said.

Last week Ald. Ralph Gertsch (19th) questioned the actions of former Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell and a few others in his administration of buying lots in the area of school sites while in office.

Nothing Wrong

Mitchell and others countered they had done nothing wrong. He also said he would recommend that if city officials wanted more information he recommended calling a special council meeting.

"I have received no such request from Mitchell," Buckley said.

Gertsch indicated he "would welcome the special meeting," and intended to confer with the Outagamie County district attorney sometime this week. He had not done so as of today.

Buckley Agrees

"I agree with some of the aldermen who feel that if the council did not wish to hear out Ald. Gertsch, then why Mitchell?" Buckley said.

However, Buckley added he would favor the council considering a code of ethics for all city officials.

"It should cover all appointive and elected officials," Buckley said.

Buckley and Mitchell are candidates for mayor in Tuesday's election.

Attorneys Ask Dismissal of Murder Charge

Final Arguments For Ex-Chicago Policeman April 9

Post-Crescent News Service
FOND DU LAC — Attorneys for a former Chicago policeman charged with first degree murder moved today for dismissal and County Judge Hazen W. McEsey set April 9 to hear final arguments.

A grand jury earlier in the week indicted Chester Dombrowski, 30, in connection with the slaying of another Chicagoan, Herbert L. McKinny, 27, a machinist's helper, whose body was found Sept. 12, 1967 in a dump near Kewaskum in Fond du Lac County.

Dombrowski was arrested at 1 a.m. Tuesday at O'Hare Field where he was employed by United Airlines.

He waived extradition and appeared before Judge McEsey shortly before noon today, represented by Attys. David Leichtfuss, Milwaukee, and Robert N. Gordon, West Bend.

Bail Reduced

Originally, the court set bail at $15,000 but it was reduced to $5,000.

Dombrowski's legal counsel did not indicate whether bail would be posted.

In seeking dismissal of the murder charge Dombrowski's lawyers alleged he was denied a speedy trial, the murder warrant had been issued as result of "an improper grand jury inquiry", and there was insufficient evidence to support the charge a crime had been committed.

Teamsters Win Vote at Zaug's

The Teamsters Union won an election Tuesday conducted by the National Labor Relations Board at Zaug's Vending Service, Inc. at 4100 W. Wisconsin Ave.

Members of the unit cast 15 votes for the union and one against. Two ballots were challenged.

Kenneth Rock, agent, supervised the election and ballot counting.

A representative of Teamsters Local 563 said today the next move will be for union to petition for a complete union shop election at the firm.

Survey to Locate New Sites

More City Industrial Land Urged

Appleton's land bank holdings should be increased to "keep the ball rolling" when it comes to industrial development, the board of public works recommended Tuesday.

The board took note that the old county airport property — 153 acres in total — has, for the most part, been spoken for over the past six months by existing and new firms interested in expansions.

At its next meeting, the city council will be asked to give the industry-commerce development committee authority to proceed with a study of additional land which may be available for development into another municipal industrial park.

Mayor George Buckley said today he concurred in the action of the board and would support it. "We have had considerable success with developing the industrial park on the far north-east side," Buckley said.

Ald. John Ayers (12th), council president, initiated the action at Tuesday's board meeting.

"It's my understanding that about 90 per cent of the old airport property has been spoken for," Ayers commented.

"In view of the success the city has been having in selling development sites to existing and new firms, I feel we should take advantage of what we have going and keep the ball rolling," Ayers added.

City officials agreed there is a definite market for new plant and office sites for old and new industries in Appleton.

They also complimented the council's Industrial - Commerce Development Committee for the work it has been doing.

And at one point, it was noted critically that the committee had been bypassed last Saturday when the Appleton Mills had its ground-breaking.

Sales Pending

Public Works Director Frank Keuler said a major factor in the city's successful industrial park venture was the price of the land. He indicated the city had been able to come up with fair prices to all concerned.

Records show that of the 153 acres, there have been close to 50 actually sold. However, transactions are pending which could lead to the sale of three additional sites in the near future and another major-sized tract by July 1.

"I don't think the majority of the people of Appleton are aware of the big job the city is doing to help industry and expand the tax base," observed Ald. Alvin E. Tews (5th), finance committee chairman.

Tews explained while the city was purchasing land for new plant sites, it should be emphasized such a program represented "a sound investment for all the people of Appleton".

NEENAH — Mrs. Charles B. Clark, 86, 617 E. Wisconsin Ave., widow of one of the founders of Kimberly-Clark Corp. and a leader in local and state humanitarian and civic groups, died at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday at her home.

She was born Feb. 23, 1882, in Menasha, the daughter of Helen Lauson Kerwin and Judge James C. Kerwin, former Wisconsin Supreme Court justice. She attended public schools in Menasha and Neenah and the Burnham School, North Hampton, Mass. She married Charles B. Clark on Jan. 4, 1907.

He also founded Thea Clark Hospital.

Youths Pull Nephew, Would-be Rescuer to Safety on Shore

Mild Winter Saves Money For Appleton

Winter was a money-saver for Appleton.

While an exact dollar sign cannot be placed on savings attributed to a mild winter, city officials said today it runs into thousands.

For materials alone, according to Public Works Director Frank Keuler and Finance Director Henry Schreve, the accounts are in good shape.

A balance of $2,491 is left over from the 1967 budget.

And of $25,735 budgeted for 1968 for sand and calcium chloride, about $17,000 is left.

Money Needed

However, officials pointed out money would be needed to cover next November and December.

"All things considered, I'll take a winter like the one we just had anytime," Keuler commented.

He said the major savings was in overtime pay.

"When we get a lot of snow there is usually a heavy payout for overtime plowing and snow removal," Keuler said.

This past winter was an

Two young brothers saved the life of their seven-year-old nephew when they pulled him from the swift current of the Fox River, near the S. Memorial Drive bridge, about 5:15 p.m. Tuesday.

They also pulled the youngster's would-be rescuer from the icy river.

James Krause, 18, and his brother, Dean, 14, both of 225 E. Taft Ave., were credited with saving the life of their nephew, John Ollila, 7, son of Mrs. Karen Brauer, 401 S. Walnut St. Mrs. Brauer is a sister of the Krause brothers.

Also pulled from the river by the Krause boys was Richard Siebold, 34, who rooms at 401 S. Walnut St. Siebold, who was fishing with the Ollila boy and the Krauses, later collapsed at home and was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by the Appleton Fire Department rescue squad.

Released Later

Siebold remained hospitalized this morning, suffering from exhaustion. His doctor said he is recovering satisfactorily and could be released later today.

Siebold, a route salesman for Gardner Baking Co., told The Post-Crescent that he and the boys went to the river to fish late Tuesday afternoon. He said that he and the Ollila boy were standing on a railroad bridge foundation crib. The boy was fishing and Siebold was watching boats at the nearby Yacht Club.

The Krause brothers were fishing from another bridge support, about 15 yards away.

Siebold said he heard a splash. He turned. The Ollila boy was gone. He could not see him in the water. The boy was not wearing a life jacket.

Siebold leaped into the water, fully clothed. He told The Post-Crescent from his hospital bed this morning that although he "can manage to stay above water," he is not a good swimmer.

Although he could not see the boy, Siebold was able to find him "under the water," which

'Delegates for Peace' Stassen Crusades

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

What a difference an image makes.

GOP presidential hopeful Harold Stassen should know.

His "loser" image contributed to more than 400 vacant seats when the former Minnesota governor talked at Lawrence University's Stansbury Theater auditorium Tuesday.

But Stassen remained unruffled.

Stassen, 60, is a man of immense stature and an impressive speaker.

His 6'4" frame carries over 200 pounds. He appeared to have as much polish and zest as the presidential aspirants who have preceded him in Appleton.

Campaign Day

Stassen's swing through Appleton, Green Bay, Sheboygan and Manitowoc represented a typical campaign day for the former Minnesota farm boy, who in 1938 became the youngest governor in the U.S.

at the age of 31. Before that he had been a district attorney at age 23.

Those students who may have been inclined to hold Stassen up to ridicule in advance of his talk here had second thoughts.

During the half hour question period which followed, Stassen fielded many inquiries without alluding to a political dodge.

Stassen wasn't afraid to throw barbs at both political parties and their candidates.

He worked over Richard Nixon, had sympathy for Sen. Eugene McCarthy and criticized all the runners in the Wisconsin primary for not accepting his repeated challenges to debate.

Stassen-the - peace-candidate inferred Sen. Robert Kennedy had been a Bobby come-lately.

"I'm going to leave Wisconsin Thursday and speak at the University of Nebraska (scene of the next primary)," Stassen said, "I was booked to talk sometime ago at 2:30 p.m. and I just found out this morning that Senator Kennedy has now decided to be there at 4 p.m."

While Stassen's political image may be old hat, his personal appearance is one of a "new" Stassen. Almost bald the last time he campaigned in Wisconsin, Stassen now wears a toupee.

"What happens to me is not important in this election," Stassen says. "What happens to the issues is important."

Among other things, the man who was tapped to serve in the Roosevelt and Eisenhower Administrations, was a member of the seven-man U.S. delegation in 1945 which helped establish the United Nations. He was then 38 years old.

Winner Sometimes

He has not always been a loser.

Stassen recalled that as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1948 he was victorious in the Wisconsin primary — outpolling Thomas Dewey and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

"The delegates I win in any primary will be pledged to peace," Stassen avowed.

If Stassen was someone in the 500-seat auditorium, he didn't show it.

But this has been the Stassen problem. He appears to be capable of fine oratory, but the drawing power just isn't there.

Group Urges Peterson to Be Candidate

A group of Outagamie County Republicans has been formed to promote the candidacy of Talbot Peterson. Appleton, a former state GOP chairman, for the Republican nomination for U.S. Senate.

Elizabeth Bertrand, spokesman for the group, said a meeting last weekend was to promote support for Peterson. She also said state Republicans have been contacted on the move. Mrs. Bertrand said formal organizational plans will depend on Peterson's decision.

Peterson said the movement was "sort of a shock" and that it came as a great surprise to him. He said he has not had time to think too much about it but he would probably make a decision sometime before April 18, the date of the first of the Republican District caucuses.

State Sen. Jerris Leonard, Bayside, has already declared himself a candidate for the GOP nomination for the seat held by Democrat Gaylord Nelson.

Double Session Looms Without Second School

Neenah Must Start Soon, Proponents of New High Assert

NEENAH — Unless work is started on a new senior high school for Neenah in the next month or two, students may be attending double sessions during the 1971-72 school year.

This prediction emerged at the second "Fireside Chat" between members of the school board, educators and residents of the city Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. James Buchanan, school board member.

Supt. Donald Scott told the 16 guests that the senior high school enrollment is now approximately 1,600 students and can be expected to climb to the capacity of the present school by the opening of school this fall.

If nothing is done by the fall of 1971 to alleviate the pressure, "it could end up in a double session," Scott said.

The double session means that students go to school in two shifts, one shift using the morning hours, the other the afternoon.

In a recent study of extended school year plans, the school board found the double session has many disadvantages, including cutting school time and disrupting extracurricular activities.

The estimated cost for a 1,000 student senior high is approximately $3 million, while a 300 student addition to Conant Junior High School for use the following year would add another $90,000.

The school board had asked for a go-ahead from the fiscal control group to hire an architect, but was asked to give some study first to the possibility of savings through an extended school year. The board study yielded mostly negative conclusions on the amount that would be saved.

One guest, William Thompson, asked, "Why the delay?"

He then pointed out that building costs will never be any cheaper than they are now, because of inflation.

Scott replied that it was well that the delay for the study was made, since a lot of people had been interested in the possibility of an extended school year.

But now time is becoming a key factor, he said. It takes a year to plan a new high school and two years to build, he said, making it narrowly possible to complete the project before the fall of 1971.

Senators in Minority

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wisconsin Democrats Nelson Proxmire and Gaylord Nelson both voted with the minority Tuesday as the Senate approved, by a 51-32 margin, a tax bill amending overturning a treasury ruling which would remove the tax exemption on industrial development bonds.

Rally Continues On Wall Street

Advances Ahead of Declines by 3-1 On Broad Front

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices continued climbing early this afternoon in active trading.

As the long-postponed rally entered its second day, advances outnumbered declines by about 3 to 1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 5.32 at 836.86.

Blue chips and glamor stocks rose together. Gold mining shares declined as the price of gold bullion sank in Paris.

Gains of fractions to a point or so were scattered through the list of leading issues. The higher-priced stocks tacked on several points.

Technical Rally

Part of the market strength was a follow-through to Tuesday's technical rally. Also given credit was progress in the U.S. Senate toward adopting legislation combining a cut in government spending with a tax increase. The large amount of cash held on the sidelines by mutual funds and other institutions and the need to "dress up" portfolios for first quarter reports also were cited as factors in the rise.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.6 at 301.4 with industrials up 2.9, rails up .6 and utilities up .7.

A block of 99,000 shares of Avnet traded at $4.94 was enough to push it to the top of the list of volume leaders. After the block cleared, Avnet's gain

Winneconne Takes Option On High Site

WINNECONNE — The board of the Winneconne Community School District No. 1, has taken a six month $60,000 option to purchase the farm of Charles R. Buchanan, east of the Village of Winneconne, as a site for the new high school now in the planning stage.

By the end of April, the board hopes to go to the electorate for approval of the site.

For the past eight months a 79-member Educational Advisory Committee, made up of citizens from throughout the 185 square mile district, have been studying the district's school needs. In its initial report last fall it informed the board of education that growing enrollments at the elementary and junior high school level dictated a new high school by the fall of 1970.

The growth is attributed to people moving into the district. Thern Associates, Oshkosh architectural firm, was selected in October to submit its recommendations and design. This firm designed the round school at Watoma which is in use for the first time this year.

The Winneconne board has been looking at hexagonally designed units, located off very stretched from 1 point to nearly 2.

Among high-flyers on the most active list, Polaroid gained 5, Teledyne 4 and Control Data 3.

Up around a point or better were Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, General Electric, Xerox, United Air Lines, Merck and U.S. Smelting.

Prices advanced broadly on the American Stock Exchange.

short corridors, all leading from a centrally located student union building and including a swimming pool.

The Buchanan farm was chosen by the board of education after studying 11 proposed sites, including one which would have been given free for school purposes. The optioned site is located at the east edge of the village of Winneconne, and parallels Ninth Street, next to the village sanitation and water supply.

McCarthy, Newman, Nixon Campaign Paths Criss-Cross

NEENAH-MENASHA — The Fox Valley is feeling the quickening pace of Wisconsin's presidential primary competition. Two candidates are coming within listening distance of the Twin Cities Thursday and a politicking performer was scheduled to precede one of them late today with stops in Neenah and the Town of Menasha.

Actor Paul Newman was scheduled for appearances at Fox Point and Valley Fair shopping centers at respective times of 5:30 and 6 p.m. The actor is stumping for Sen. Eugene McCarthy, challenger to President Johnson for Democratic primary votes next Tuesday.

McCarthy himself and the lone major candidate on the Republican ballot, former vice president Richard M. Nixon, were due for separate appearances in Oshkosh Thursday morning.

Both candidates have appeared there previously. Nixon was scheduled for a coffee hour including a short speech and some handshaking at the Pioneer Inn, where he was expected to spend the night arriving late tonight.

McCarthy, meanwhile, was slated for arrival at the Winnebago County Airport at 8:55 a.m., where he will spend 20 minutes meeting local supporters including a contingent of Neenah-Menasha workers and a out-of-state university students who have been in the area the past week helping with his campaign.

A tour of Oshkosh factories and a local news conference from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. were to round out his appearance before he leaves for Rhineclander.

Smouldering Wet Hay Suffocates Youngsters

NORTH VERNON, Ind. (AP) — Two brothers suffocated recently when damp hay caught fire in the loft of a barn behind the family home. Firemen said Michael Stoner, 4, and his brother, Malcolm, 3, were killed by the burning hay. The victims, whose parents were vacationing in Florida, were being cared for by grandparents.

at that point was about 12 feet deep. Siebold brought the boy to the surface, but the swift current tore the youngster from his hands and swept him further down the river.

Hear Splashing

The Krause boys heard the splashing, and James said he thought he heard a yell. They grabbed the Ollila boy by the jacket collar when he floated near the bridge support on which they stood.

Siebold said this morning that the boy's heavy, winter coat may have saved his life. The jacket seemed to fill with air, and helped keep the youth near the surface. Siebold said, "The jacket acted like a bobber," he explained.

Although he had swallowed some water, the boy was unharmed when he was pulled from the river.

Siebold was still in the water and was becoming "totally exhausted." He managed to grab onto the wall of the bridge support and hung on until the Krause boys pulled him out. He said today he probably could have made it to safety alone if he could have "gotten my wind."

Man Collapses

The Krause boys helped Siebold home. He seemed to be recovering from his exhaustion but at 7:25 p.m., James Krause, who had stayed with him, found him unconscious on the bathroom floor. James called the rescue squad. Siebold was semi-conscious when he got to the hospital.

He said this morning that he recalls being home about 6:30 p.m., but then could remember nothing until he awoke in the hospital bed.

The Ollila boy is a second grader at St. Joseph Catholic School. He was staying with his grandmother this morning.

James Krause is an employee of Elm Tree Bakery, and his brother, Dean, attends eighth grade at James Madison Junior High School. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Krause.

Skilled Leaders Key to Improving Rural Economy

GREEN BAY (AP)—Development of skilled leadership is vital to improving the nation's rural economy, Clyde T. Ellis, special consultant to the secretary of agriculture, said today.

Ellis, in a speech for delivery to an annual meeting of Wisconsin rural electric officials, said the role of leadership development "is one of the most important you, as leaders of the rural electrification, can perform in the crusade to restore rural U.S.A. to partnership in the nation."

Ellis, general manager emeritus of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, said untrained labor migrating to the cities can reduce the efficiency of economic improvement projects in the cities.

State Blocks Closing of Marston Hall

Veterans Home Facility Needed to Ease Overcrowding

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Marston Hall at the Grand Army Home for Veterans at King will continue to operate, despite earlier allegations that it should be closed because it is a "firetrap."

The State Board on Government Operations voted Tuesday to continue using the housing facility for ambulatory patients because of space problems.

The action came after the board was told in a recommendation from Gov. Warren P. Knowles that a special investigation by the State Department of Industry, Labor and Human Relations has shown the building meets state health and safety standards for buildings of its age. The building is about 70 years old.

In December, the board refused a State Department of Veterans Affairs request for funds to remodel and staff the building. Knowles recommended the building be closed permanently, even if it meant that patients waiting for enrollment in the veterans home could not be admitted.

Veterans Protest

After making that recommendation, Knowles received protests from veterans groups and sent the investigating team to check on the building's condition.

The legislative committee which visits state institutions also examined the structure and recommended continued use.

Knowles' earlier recommendation was based in part on a study by Gene Arnn, an analyst in the State Department of Administration. He maintained that such wood frame buildings "are fire hazards and are undoubtedly in violation of some of the (state) building codes. They are uninsurable. It would appear to be a gross injustice to continue to accept excess assets from elderly veterans, and then house them in buildings which are unsafe fire traps."

Upon enrolling in the home, veterans turn over their excess assets to operate the institution. Knowles recommended the use be approved, but trimmed all but $111,600 from a request for $279,100 to operate and staff the hall. The board agreed by a 5-2 vote.

Language Fair to be At Xavier in Appleton

Booklets, charts, puzzles, costumes and architecture of German, Latin, Spanish and French-speaking nations will be displayed at the annual foreign language fair Saturday and Sunday at Xavier High School.

The projects will be set up Friday night in the school commons. Saturday morning judges will rate the projects on educational value, research, spelling, translation, presentation of the material and the amount of work involved.

Judges include Miss Lila Locksmith, Fox Valley Center, Spanish; Mrs. George DeYoung, Sacred Heart School, and Pierre Peruel, St. Norbert College, French; Sister M. Clare Adelle, Holy Family College, Manitowoc, and the Rev. Theodore Antry, Abbot Penning's High, West DePere, Latin; and Christoph Swoboda, Abbot Penning's, German.

Sponsored by French Club

At noon the French Club, which is sponsoring the fair, will serve dinner at the school. Teachers from Xavier who have students participating include Sister Leah Marie, Latin; Zi Hyung Sa and Mrs. Helen Zuehlke, Spanish; Mrs. Gertrude Brown, German, and Sister Therese Ellen and Sister M. Joseph Paul, French.

Along with the fair, language teachers of the high schools in the Green Bay Diocese will meet Saturday at Xavier to discuss new trends in their field.

"Counter-revolution in Foreign Language Teaching", a recent article by Elton Hocking, will be discussed by a panel composed of Sister M. Joseph Paul, OSF, Xavier; Sister Medarde, SND, St. Mary, Menasha; and Sister Marie, OP, St. John, Little Chute.

The group will view movies and visit the language fair after the program.

Dunn

June of 1966, will coordinate domestic and foreign sales programs, according to B. L. Whipple, executive vice president.

Since joining the company, Dunn has established a network of regional representatives operating throughout the 50 states and Canada, and 16 foreign countries. He held sales management positions with electrical and dairy equipment industries before joining Kurz & Root.

After the annual meeting, board members reiterated plans to direct major marketing emphasis toward developing commercial markets in the firm's complete line of engine generator sets, motor generator sets, brushless AC generators, solid state devices and other electrical and electronic equipment.

Fire Destroys Hunting Lodge Near Shiocton

Appleton Firm Owned Building on County Trunk M

SHIOCTON — The Mosquito Valley hunting lodge located six miles southwest of here was destroyed by flames early today.

The lodge, unoccupied at the time, is owned by the Appleton Wire Works Corp. and is part of the Mosquito Valley Shooting Preserve and Game Farm.

The blaze was discovered about 1:45 a.m. and the one-story wood frame structure was burned to the ground when the Shiocton-Bovina Fire Department arrived. Outagamie County patrolman Lester Meyers, who reported the fire, saw smoke and flames above the trees while patrolling along County Trunk S.

Dale Nichols, Shiocton fire chief, said there were no other buildings in the vicinity but firemen wetted down the surrounding area and put out a few remaining flames. Three trucks and about 18 firemen were on the scene 1½ hours.

The three-room lodge is about 100 feet west of County Trunk M which is torn up for road repairs. County Trunk M connects with State 54 and County Trunk S in the lodge area.

Unusual Bridge

Caretaker Clair Muskevitch, New London, indicated access to the lodge is hampered by road repair and an unusable bridge.

Charles Buchanan, Appleton Wire Works corp. vice president, estimated it would cost $10,000 to replace the lodge. He said it was partially insured. The firm bought the lodge about 20 years ago.

Muskevitch, caretaker for the building the past 33 years, said the structure is probably 50 years old. About 25 lodge members and company customers use the hunting lodge.

Buchanan reported there was nothing of value inside at the time. The lodge had not been used by hunters since late February. Muskevitch said he last checked it Saturday.

Their services also used in working at the city's landfill site, along with removing trees and stumps in areas where road construction is scheduled this summer.

Milwaukeean Jailed On Motoring Charge

Walter E. Haas, 24, Milwaukee, was sentenced to 180 days in jail Tuesday after he pleaded guilty of driving after his license was revoked.

Arrested by state police, Haas appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2. He had several prior convictions for driving after revocation, thus necessitating the mandatory 180-day jail term.

He also was fined $25 and costs or another 12 days in jail when he pleaded guilty of speeding 71 miles per hour at night on U.S. 41, near Outagamie County Trunk E. He was arrested on both counts March 1.

New London Fire Levels 3 Buildings

NEW LONDON — Grass fires whipped by a strong westerly wind raged out of control and ignited three farm buildings, including a barn, on the Mrs. Henry Sawall farm, route 2, shortly after 11 a.m. Tuesday. All were destroyed.

Several fires were burning simultaneously when New London firemen arrived at the scene. Town of Lebanon volunteer firemen and neighbors were already on hand combating grass fires which were burning out of control.

A machine shed, granary and the 36 by 80 foot barn were engulfed in flames and firemen could do little except protect the Sawall house and a home across U.S. 45.

Original reports received at the fire station were that the fire was a grass fire and buildings weren't in immediate danger. Mrs. Sawall and the fire ranger airplane made almost simultaneous reports with the New London Police Department getting a relayed message from the airplane.

Mrs. Sawall said she was # champions do come back!

The majority of athletic coaches and players assert that the voluble support of fans is great inspiration to rallying even championship teams to victory.

Political champions not only need voluble support, but active participation at the polls . . . the kind of voting participation responsible for the successful nomination of former Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell in his bid to repeat as a champion for the causes and needs of Appleton.

But the battle is not yet fully won and requires your continued support — and vote — of and for Clarence A. Mitchell on April 2nd. He looks forward to the opportunity to show his sincere appreciation for your vote — past and future — by returning your community to greatness . . . as its Mayor.

Meanwhile, mark April 2nd as another day to demonstrate your democratic responsibility . . . by spending a few minutes at the polls.

Nader Cites Dangers to Man's Life; Environment

BY RAY PAGEL

GREEN BAY — Ralph Nader, articulate champion for consumers, recognizes two blockages to protecting and improving man's environment. One is psychological.

The other is the long range nature of many environmental hazards.

Both are insidious, said Nader in a 75-minute speech at Riverside Ballroom here Monday night. He addressed nearly 600 persons attending the annual convention of the Wisconsin Electric Cooperative.

Impairment of environment usually proceeds very slowly. Nader cited water pollution, soil contamination, radiation, drugs and cigarettes.

Effects Long Range
"Effects are long range, and therefore man has not been showing sufficient concern," he noted.

Nader talked about product safety as well as environmental hazards. He alluded to his militant campaign for better automobiles.

"A common cause of auto accidents has been the locking of brakes. Conceivably, we could give every driver a course on how to avoid such a situation, but is it not cheaper, more effective and easier to build the brakes right in the first place?" he asked.

Inadequate Inspection
Nader, at 33, poked his biting barbs into assorted areas of concern. He was prominently associated with a campaign that led last year to a broadened federal meat inspection program.

"The public was under the mistaken impression that the job was being adequately done. Yet there was much non-inter-

5 Male Choruses Will be Featured In May Concert

Five men's choruses from Wisconsin and upper Michigan will participate in The Big Sing at Appleton High School-East, on May 4.

Appleton MacDowell Male Chorus will be host to the annual event of the Wisconsin District of the Associated Male Choruses of America.

More than 200 men will participate. They are members of MacDowell, the Nequaune (Mich.) Male Chorus, the Apollo Male Chorus of Oshkosh, the Rhinelander Male Chorus, and the AC Electronics Male Chorus of Milwaukee.

Each will perform individually and also join ranks for a series of numbers.

The program will be the only appearance of MacDowell Male Chorus in Appleton this year. The group has scheduled concerts at Green Bay April 7, Neenah April 21, and Stockbridge April 28.

Tickets for The Big Sing are $1.75 each and may be obtained from MacDowell Chorus members.

state meat that never was subject to inspection," he commented. You can expect to hear plenty about what Nader called excessive radiation from medical and dental machines.

"Ninety per cent of all radiation to which we are exposed comes from such machines, and 90 per cent of that is unnecessary," he declared.

"There are too many untrained people operating these machines," Nader asserted.

Chemicals A Threat

He suggested that over-fertilization is posing a threat to the food supply. He said many chemicals are being used in agriculture and in other areas of environment without having been analyzed for long-range effects.

"We are dumping pesticides, phosphates, sewage, wastes of all kinds into our rivers and lakes," he continued. "Ninety million people in this country are drinking water that either does not meet federal standards, which are very permissive, or has never been tested."

A special matter of concern, Nader insisted, should be the growth and concentration of big business. As corporations grow more powerful, he said, they move farther away from the people who support them.

"We must be concerned about the fact that there are different standards for negligent individual and corporate behavior, and that seldom is a criminal penalty exacted on corporations."

Beer Stolen At Shiocton Bar

Outagamie County authorities are investigating the theft of 25 six-packs of beer and three boxes of candy bars from the Shiocton Legion Club.

The theft was reported to the sheriff's department Monday. The articles were believed to have been taken after 4:30 p.m. Saturday. Sheriff's investigators said there was no sign of forced entry into the building.

State Dentists Have Available Tests to Find Oral Cancer

BY E. H. JORRIS M.D.
State Health Officer

A two-year demonstration program has ended which made available to dentists in Wisconsin a method to test the effectiveness of cytological smears as a means of early detection of oral cancer.

Of the 16,000 new cases of mouth cancer diagnosed each year in the United States, two out of three die of the disease and many of those who survive are disfigured or disabled. In 1966, 7,000 Americans died of cancer of the oral cavity which includes the buccal cavity (mouth) and pharynx (upper throat).

In Wisconsin, as in the nation, cancer ranks second to heart disease as the leading cause of death. Wisconsin had an average of 134 deaths per year for the last 10 years from oral cancer, and 138 deaths last year. A man's chances of having mouth cancer are twice those of a woman. In Wisconsin each year for the last 10 years eight of every 10 oral cancer deaths were males.

A cancer can occur anywhere in the mouth. More than 90 per cent of all cancers start in the lining of the mouth and most frequently involve the tongue. Oral cancer can start as a small lump, sore, white patch, or red spot which causes no discomfort.

The cause is unknown, but several factors may increase the risk of developing cancer of the mouth — among them smoking, snuff dipping, and the consumption of alcohol. More than four out of five oral-cancer patients examined at the San Francisco Medical Center were smokers and studies show that most patients have consumed large amounts of alcohol over an extensive period of time.

Cancer arising in the mouth should be easy to discover. Dentists are in a particularly strategic position to find precancerous oral lesions and mouth cancers in the early stages of their development. In recent years, in the United States, efforts have been made to enlist the dental profession in the search for mouth cancer.

The oral cytology program was started late in 1965 jointly by the Dental Health Section of the Wisconsin Division of Health, Wisconsin State Dental Society, American Cancer Society, and State Laboratory of Hygiene.

An oral cytology kit was sent to each practicing dentist in Wisconsin and each was asked to take oral cytological smears whenever he noticed a suspicious condition in any of his patients.

During the program approximately 290 dentists (14 per cent) in Wisconsin sent 514 smears to the laboratories for diagnosis. Among them, there were 46 abnormal readings of which six smears revealed cancer.

The bulk of the smears were taken from patients 30-34 and 70-74, with the largest percentage of positive smears coming from those 45-49 years old.

Discovered early, 80 to 90 per cent of oral cancer can be cured. Methods of controlling the disease are surgery, radiation, or a combination of both. Unfortunately, the dentists see only 40 per cent of the population. Therefore, a statewide educational program is necessary to alert the people in Wisconsin to the need for periodic mouth examinations.

Danger signs for cancer include any sore which does not heal within a two-week period, whether or not it is painful, any swelling or bumps which persist, any discoloration of the lip or mouth surfaces, any persistent bleeding from any part of the mouth, hoarseness or cough, or any difficulty in swallowing. If found, consult your dentist or physician.

Olive-Cheese Shorties

All-American Vote Getters

POST-CRESCENT FOOD EDITOR
By Lillian Mackesy

Whether your candidates win or lose come next Tuesday, your victory as a hostess is assured with the informal party foods featured today. These snack ideas, once prepared so easily and tasted, will become the people's choice in a big landslide while waiting for the votes to come in.

Ease of preparation with emphasis on do-aheads for some are the features which lend themselves to a buffet service with a bright elephant and donkey decor. Coffee or tea piping hot, a punch made with rosy cranberry juice and a carbonated lemon-lime beverage go well with conversation and TV or radio listening to the returns.

The Olive-Cheese Shorties, for instance, are short in size (easy to pop into one's mouth before, after or during a political conversation) but very long in appeal. Then there are the ever-favorite French fried potatoes (prepared via the frozen package to a crisp, golden brown just before serving time), served with a dip kept hot over a flame. The dip is a zesty combination of cream cheese, tomato soup with onion, chili powder and Tabasco Sauce. Now there's a combination!

For food a bit more on the glamor side, serve any one of the three crab appetizers. There's the melt-in-the-mouth hors d'oeuvres called King Crab Cheese Puffs. There's a crab-cheese mixture that makes a spread for crackers. Don't overlook the Crab Avocado Cocktail that belies its quick preparation.

Marketing Memo

American Adults Poorly Fed Despite Abundance of Food

Even with the abundant supply of fresh fruits and vegetables available all year, the large variety of canned and frozen foods and higher incomes, American adults are still poorly fed, according to Rosemary Stare, consumer marketing specialist at the University of Wisconsin.

Three out of four families in the United States aren't getting enough vitamin A and C in their diet. These vitamins are the nutrients found in fruits and vegetables.

A study just reported by the U.S. Department of Agriculture shows that 5 per cent of the American households have poorer diets than when the last study was done in 1955.

Vegetables, Citrus

By serving more dark-green and deep-yellow vegetables rich in vitamin A, and citrus fruits in vitamin C, you'll be providing your family the opportunity for better nutrition.

Vegetables currently in good supply include potatoes, lettuce and celery. Potatoes are frequent specials. The early spring crop in California and Florida is expected to be large, so the supply will be good for some time yet.

The quality of head lettuce remains high and is a good buy. Celery is in a peak period of production and prices are about as low as they'll get.

Asparagus, Broccoli

More asparagus and broccoli will be available. The price should be favorable, since the crops are larger than the average yield.

Cabbage and carrots are reasonably priced. Prices on Florida produce remains high because of the short supply.

Fryers should be a good poultry buy. You'll find good buys still on turkeys, and eggs continue to be reasonably priced.

Home-Sewing Explosion Examined by Institute

Not long ago a school teacher, on a visit to New York, went to see a Broadway show. Between the acts she found herself in a genteel staring match with a woman acknowledged as one of the best dressed in the world.

"Why's that woman giving you the eye?" the school teacher was asked by her husband.

"Oh, she's probably trying to figure out who I am," the school teacher muttered.

"How come?" the husband asked.

"Because our dresses are made of the same material," the school teacher replied, adding a bit proudly, "But, of course, I made mine myself."

Such a recognition scene is rare. But it points up a new fashion phenomenon; namely, that more and more women are sewing their own clothes and doing it better than ever before.

Sewing Machine Record

The Institute of Life Insurance, which reports on matters of family money management, estimates that women who sew at home are spending more than $1.5 billion a year on supplies.

The statistics on home-sewing are awesome. It's estimated that 41 million American women have electric sewing machines. Last year was a record setter for the sewing machine industry. One company alone sold over a million machines for home use.

But sewing machines are only a small part of the home sewing picture. In 1967, the women of America bought 120 million patterns, more than $800 million worth of fabric and $350 million worth of buttons, threads, zippers, trimmings and accessories.

Part of the reason for the sewing explosion is the fact that there are now more females in the United States than ever before. The girl babies born after World War II are now maturing. The experts say many of them are as budget conscious as they are fashion wise. One recent study indicates that six out of seven teenage girls know how to sew.

Display Originality

There are, of course, many reasons why home sewing is growing increasingly popular. Some women consider making clothes a wonderful way to display their originality. Others say it's the only way they can get exactly what they want to fit them. Sewing gives them a great range of style, fabric and color choices.

Few women say economy is their main reason for sewing. But, they do, indeed, save money. More than many realize. The amount of saving, of course, is in direct proportion to the amount of money, time and ability invested. Proof of this is a statement by an official of a pattern firm that sells adaptations of high-priced Paris and New York originals. He estimates that a woman who spends $10 a yard for fabric makes a garment that in a store would cost her anywhere from $500 to $1,000 in the original fabric. True, most women would not spend that much for an outfit so the saving is quite hypothetical.

Simplified, Yet Stylish

Yet, the same economy formula can be applied to less expensive patterns and fabrics. In all price ranges, the savings can be proportionately sizable.

The people who cater to the home sewing trade have in recent years made it easier and easier for women. Sewing machines have been improved. Patterns have been kept easy yet stylish. In addition, the fashionable "loose" look has made things easier for the home dressmaker.

Of course it takes time and energy, but apparently being nimble with a thimble is more popular now than it was in the days of the ladies sewing circle.

Children's Fashions for spring and summer were presented Sunday at the second annual show sponsored by the Appleton Chapter of Hadassah. Above left, David Golper wears blue shorts and matching blue checked button down collar durable press shirt. Bruce Abramson, center, is ready for spring in a blue, brown and gold checked sport coat teamed with gold-brown twill slacks. His shirt is yellow. A rayon and acetate blue sports coat with glen plaid trousers is the choice of William Weiner, above right. At left, Karen Bromberg hits a cool note in a mint green jumpsuit. Linda Weiner, center, is wearing a corded cotton coat dress. Her yellow and white hat and yellow patent leather purse complete the outfit. Kathy Bromberg wears a play suit with bloomers and pinafore top in navy and white check.

Hairdresser Visits

Women in Vietnam Get Morale Booster

By JURATE KAZICKAS
SAIGON (AP) — Military officials organizing tours for entertainers were skeptical. A hairdresser coming to South Vietnam?

But Daniel Wadiaeff wanted to come from New York and do creative hairstyling for the American women in the armed forces stationed here.

Considered one of the top 10 hairdressers in the United States, he lists the former Lynda Bird Johnson, Mrs. Oscar Hammerstein II, and Eileen Ford among his clients.

If the military in Vietnam were dubious, his friends in New York found the idea even more strange, he said.

Enthusiastic Reception

Wadiaeff's reception was enthusiastic. He arrived March 18 and spent a week traveling to bases around Saigon and Cam Ranh Bay, escorted by Maj. John P. Miller, Bonita, Calif.

More than 350 women suddenly became glamorous as Wadiaeff snipped, shaped and styled. He worked in trailers, barracks, lounges and in the open under parachute canopies.

"Everybody received me beautifully. I met such marvelous people here. Ironically, I'm only a private first class in the Reserves, but in Vietnam I ranked as a colonel," he remarked.

Sports Fan

Wadiaeff, a bachelor, is fond of sports and holds a brown belt in karate.

He saw a little action in Vietnam when Long Binh was shelled lightly and when some shooting broke out near Cam Ranh Bay.

The girls who met the stylist were delighted.

"The men here get singers, dancers and all kinds of entertainers. This is the first time someone came over specifically for the women," said Sgt. Rita Pitcock, Miami, Fla., "Many of the guys commented quite favorably on our new appearance."

Wadiaeff financed the entire trip himself. He was sponsored by the State Department, and the Saigon USO arranged his itinerary. He says he wants to come back this year with some assistants and possibly a fashion show.
